

Hello

My name is tshenolo, I have discovered that the brain and the the seconds work the same, the seconds of the digital watch show you brain activity all the time. I managed to come up with words that's match every second to tell you what each second means even the combination of seconds for example 24, every time you are thinking about something, after, look at the seconds then they tell you exactly what you were thinking about as if the watch can read your mind. This proves that somehow the brain is technology.

PROGRAM:

Truth acceptances program is a software created in a normal digit or smartwatch. This shows the seconds. The software comes with a menu that shows the meaning of every second. The softwares main thing is programmed with words that are the meaning of every second to show all the time when you need to know about what you were thinking about or talking about. These words on the menu explain types of thoughts or brain activity all the time when looked at.

The way it works is first toy have to think or talking about anything that comes up your mind, after you look at the seconds, read the menu to see the meaning then you realise it shows what you were thinking about or talking about. You have to look after thought or speech.

This is the menu:

0= nothing at all or a situation that is nothing

1= first things, importance

2= do or doing

3=unevenness or acceptance

4=love, hate or true

5= good

6=perfect or imperfect

7=arrangement

8=moment

9=more uneveneas

10= first things totality

If a combination of seconds appears after thought or saying like 54 then you look at the meaning of each seconds then you know.

INNOVATION:

Truth acceptance is an innovation a new thing that people will meet. It's use is very essential in life, for memory and correctness. The fact that a watch that knows your brain activity is created shows something, firstly its proves when the seconds match your brain activity that the brain works like technology.

This works on every single person that uses Truth acceptance. This will bring better minds that will even go further on discovering what else can be known with a watch that reads your mind.

Any type of watch that is digital or smart watch that shows seconds, with the the menu of Truth acceptance it shows innovation because no watch that reads your mind has ever been created.

In the future a watch that looks like a normal smart watch, that is touch screen can be created, that on the first screen it shows the seconds in big, then when you swipe it shows the time, the hours and the minutes. That's the future and the innovative part of Truth acceptance.
