

IAPH-WPSP Cruise Project

The IAPH cruise emissions project team is happy to announce that we have set the date and place for a next meeting of our two working groups, the data-group and the implementation group. Please note that these meetings are meant to have actual parallel working sessions to find answers on the questions as described in the terms of reference; the meetings are meant for those who have volunteered for one of the working groups.

The dates and place are chosen, because it gives the opportunity for the cruise industry / CLIA to participate (at least one day) in our working groups, as they have their own meetings in London that week.

 Wed & Thur,
04 & 05 March 2020
in London, UK
(Exact location to be confirmed)

Teresa Pisano
Port of Los Angeles
Chair of data-working group

For the data-working group, Teresa Pisano from the Port of Los Angeles volunteered to chair the group; for the implementation group, Henri van der Weide from the port of Amsterdam volunteered to chair this group. If nobody objects, they will start the correspondence with their group-members as soon as possible, so that during the session in March in London we can achieve some first results ; this brings us to our call for participation in one of the groups: we still need a lot of active working group members to bring this project to a success!

Henri van der Weide
Port of Amsterdam
Chair of Implementation group

So please volunteer for one the groups by sending an email to Sacha Rougier and Henri van der Weide.

After the session in March, the first results of the group and the intention of the project will be presented in Miami, during Seatrade - 22.02.20 at the Oval Room at National Hotel Miami.
